JAP PLANES RAID DARWIN BASE

Canberra

March 16 (AP)

OFFICIAL NEWS

Fourteen Japanese bombers smashed at Darwin today, subjecting that north coast port to its fourth air attack since war swept to the southwest Pacific.

Early reports said some damage resulted, and there were casualties, but details were lacking.

Darwin, a potential naval base for the Allied Nations, was mass raided by more than 100 Japanese bombing and fighting planes for the first time Feb. 19. Many casualties and some military damage resulted and a civilian evacuation was ordered.

The Japanese carried out lesser raids the following day and on March 4.

Australian and American airmen struck return blows today at Japanese invasion bases, including Dili in Portuguese Timor, a possible springboard for the attacks on Darwin.

U. S. BOMBERS IN RAID

Heavy American bombers were reported to have participated in the offensive sweeps by the Royal Australian Air Force, during which, the air ministry said, attacks were made on Dili and invasion bases at Rabaul and Gasmata, New Britain.

Complementing these air blows was the announcement that a United Nations submarine had sunk 6,000 tons of Japanese shipping in a 15,000-mile foray through Indonesian, Philippine and Mayan waters.

The nationality of the submarine, which docked safely at Perth after surviving several attacks with depth charges and aerial bombs during the 60-day voyage, was not disclosed.

Reports were published here, however, that the United States was launching an offensive against Japanese overseas communications with a vast fleet of submarines forming the spearhead of the attack. No authority was given for the reports.

JAPS RUSH TROOPS IN

Newspapers, meanwhile, warned that the battle for Australia was moving rapidly toward a climax and cited reports that the Japanese were sending troops out of China presumably to strengthen forces

Bog Worker's Body Found in Halifax Pond

HALIFAX, March 16 (AP)—The body of Henry Hakala, 45, a cranberry bog worker, was found with skull crushed today in about seven feet of water in Stump pond.

Police suggested he might have walked off the end of the new construction where a cut-off for Route 106 is being built and fallen, striking rocks.

Reds Mass to Stop Jap Drive

London

March 16 (AP)

Russia's well-armed Siberian forces and naval bases are ready for instant action against a Japanese attack which advices in Chungking indicate might be launched in the near future, British reports said today.

A dispatch from Stockholm to the Daily Mail said the Soviets had "issued battle orders which can be put into instant operation" at Vladivostok, across the sea of Japan from the Japanese coast, and Nikolayevsk, about 1200 miles up the Russian coast, at the mouth of the Amur river opposite the northern, Russian-owned half of Sakhalin Island.

The Daily Mail quoted the Swedish press as reporting that the Japanese army in Manchukuo had been increased to more than 1,000,000 men and said that Soviet authorities in the Swedish capital "laugh at even a million Japanese constituting a serious menace to the independent Far Eastern Soviet army which is normally a million and a half men."

Russia has increased her Siberian army to 2,000,000 front line troops and has huge reserves in training, the Daily Mail said, quoting military circles.

(On the other hand, there have been reports for some time that Russia has drawn upon her Siberian army to bolster the forces fighting the Germans in the West.)

COAST GUARD SHIP, TANKER SEND SOS

Havana

March 16 (AP)

Radio stations listened today for word from a United States Coast Guard vessel given as the source of a distress signal heard here yesterday which said she had been attacked by a submarine prowling the Caribbean Sea.

The SOS said that a U. S. Coast Guard vessel was being abandoned after being torpedoed, shelled and machine-gunned near Guadeloupe, a French island in the Lesser Antilles chain at the eastern end of the Caribbean.

Another SOS, purportedly from a large United States tanker, also was heard here. It said the ship was torpedoed by an Axis submarine in the Atlantic.

Eleven survivors were known to have reached shore from the torpedoed sugar transport Colabec, a 5,000-ton freighter which was sunk by a submarine last Thursday night with a cargo said to have included 37,000 sacks of sugar.

One of her crewmen, John Fred Eckman of Brooklyn, first assistant engineer and a veteran of 28 years of seafaring, told a harrowing story of his night aboard the doomed ship when he heard cries for help from his shipmates who had gone overboard, but was powerless to respond.

There was no word of 25 others from the Colabec's crew of 36.

INDIA BASE SPEEDS U. S. WAR ON FOE

New Delhi, India

March 16 (AP)

OFFICIAL NEWS

A United States air headquarters has been set up in India, one step in fast developing preparations toward the avowed goal not only of stopping the Japanese in Burma but also of grabbing the offensive in a drive onto the home islands of Japan.

This was disclosed yesterday by Air Marshal Sir Richard Peirse, the former chief of the RAF bomber command in Britain who has been assigned to head the air front in India.

The quietly confident air marshal, in a press conference, told a story of growing aerial might and determination to make it help turn the tide of war on the Asian mainland from the defensive to the offensive for the United Nations.

At the same time, the Colonial office in London announced British steps to shape up the defense of Ceylon, the so-called "back line fortress" against Japanese invasion of India, by naming Vice Admiral Sir Geoffrey Layton as commander-in-chief of all British forces on the Indian ocean island.

It said Sir Geoffrey, 53-year-old former commander of Britain's China station, would direct naval, military, air and civilian defense operations, in other words "all measures necessary" to safeguard the island.

Actually, according to a Reuters report from Colombo, capital of Ceylon, Sir Geoffrey assumed his new post a week ago but has not yet intervened in the civil administration of Governor Sir Andrew Caldecott.

The arrival in increasing numbers of the latest models of American and British warplanes was announced by Peirse, who gave this estimate of the air situation:

"Reinforcements are coming through faster. Our plans are being accelerated. As far as the enemy air forces are concerned, aircraft for aircraft, the British and American types are superior. Man for man, I don't think we have any fear of the enemy. . . . If we can meet him on anything like equal terms we can beat him from the skies."

Jail for Blackout Violator, One Fined

In the first crackdown on blackout violators in Massachusetts, district court judges today imposed stiff sentences on two men found guilty of disobeying orders issued by duly appointed civilian defense officials.

The maximum penalty of one year in the House of Correction and a fine of $500 was meted out to Axel H. L. Ostrom, 42, of Wilson st., Norwood, in Dedham district court for failing to obey orders during Norwood's blackout of March 10.

Judge Edmund M. Murray denounced Ostrom's actions as "intentional and flagrant" and said he should be "dealt with severely."

In Framingham court, Judge Edward W. Blodgett imposed fines totaling $125 on Norman J. Smith, 41, of Miller st., Medfield, on charges of failing to put out his car lights, failing to stop his auto and refusing to show his license to a police officer during Ashland's blackout of March 9. He paid the fines without comment.

Ostrom was sentenced after witnesses said he failed to extinguish lights in his home although told to do so by auxiliary police.

It was also charged Ostrom lighted a cigarette on the front porch after the air raid wardens left his house. They said he complied with the order to put out lights only after delay and then put them on again after they left.

HELD IN $3000 BAIL
Ostrom was tried on a charge which read:

"That he did violate Executive Order No. 3 of the governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in that he, being the occupant of certain premises, did fail upon a signal for a blackout to extinguish all lights or darken the premises so that no light was visible from outside."

He appealed the sentence and was held in $3000 for superior court. Ashland Police Chief Walter Schouler said Smith, a defense worker, drove his car a quarter-mile from his place of employment during the blackout with the lights blazing. He was warned by the watchman at the gate, Schouler said, and also passed a Boy Scout and a special policeman who shouted at him to stop and extinguish the lights.

OFFICIALS SAW INCIDENT
Schouler said Smith stopped in front of the town hall and drove to the roadside only after Schouler had threatened to pull him out of the car.

Atty. Howard W. Cole of Boston, representing the State Safety Committee, called for a heavy penalty. He said:

"These are serious times and the courts must uphold the morale of civilian defense workers. We must have discipline."

Judge Blodgett fined Smith $100 for failing to extinguish his auto lights and $25 for refusing to show his license. The failure to stop charge was filed.

GOVERNOR LEVERETT SALTONSTALL
Officials at 'L' Structure's End

GOVERNOR USES TORCH ON ATLANTIC AVE. EL

They began tearing down Old Ugly today, with the work of removing the abandoned Atlantic ave. elevated structure due to be completed by mid-July.

While a throng of curious watched from the Dewey sq. and Atlantic ave. street levels, three-score officials of the city, the state, the Boston Elevated and the contractors staged a little preliminary ceremony on the disused line's "South Station" platform.

The highlight of this ceremony was Governor Saltonstall in workman's garb, complete to helmet, goggles and mask, and then being handed a lighted acetylene torch, with which he bit—very handily—through a bar of the station's rusted iron grill.

SPUTTER OF SPARKS

This sputter of sparks, as the thin flame ate through the metal, proved nothing, of course, except that at last things were under way and the torch was working and the Governor was very versatile indeed.

There was a nostalgic tinge in the atmosphere as the group gathered for the ceremony, because in its useful period, between Aug. 22, 1901, and Oct. 1, 1932, the old line had carried many a happy family to and from Rowe's wharf and the beaches, and because many a romance had been born in the creaking, swaying cars—and perhaps some romances had died there.

But those days of an autoless era and shoebox beach lunches and tired holiday-enders, with sand in their shoes and flaming backs from the heat of the sun were gone—and here it was 1932 and the structure at last was going down for its steel to be forged into things for war.

ASKS ABOUT TRAIN

Once, while the informal talks were being made on the platform above the street, a youth of about 17 climbed the stairs and asked on which side he could get a train for Forest Hills.

They thought at first that this was some sort of gag, but the youth was serious and had thought the group to be up there on the platform waiting for Elevated trains. He went thoughtfully down to the street again.

Mayor Tobin was missing from the ceremonies, but the city was represented by Col. Thomas F. Sullivan, chairman of the transit division. He didn't carry a torch for the old elevated line—or against it.

After the tableau on the ancient station boards, the group came

SHIP SUNK BY PLANE IN MID-ATLANTIC

BERLIN (From German broadcasts), March 16 (AP)—The high command announced today that a German bombing plane "in the central Atlantic" sank a 2000-ton British merchantman.

(The communique gave no elaboration on this claim, which may indicate presence of an aircraft carrier in mid-Atlantic, since that locale would be well beyond the operating radius of a land-based fighter.)

(Dispatches from Lisbon yesterday said the British freighter Tago had been sunk late that day by German bombers off Portugal.)

(If the German high command referred to this sinking, the reference to the central Atlantic may have been meant to indicate latitude rather than longitude.)

BUY BONDS FOR BOMBERS

BOMBER DRIVE HITS MARK OF 24 MILLIONS

A brilliant example of patriotic organizations which have combined forces to give the "BUY BONDS FOR MASSACHUSETTS BOMBERS" campaign an overwhelming victory, 9000 members of the Central New England Council, B'Nai B'rith, pledged $2,000,000 toward the drive today.

At a special meeting held in a Back Bay club, executive members of the organization headed by Ben J. Schoolman, honorary president, and Arthur Suserman, president, presented to the executive board a resolution, unanimously adopted, which pledges a sum of $1,000,000 from the local council and in addition the sum of another $1,000,000 toward the BOMBER FUND from members of the District Grand Lodge.

Honorable Judge Jacob Asher of Worcester District Court, president of the District Grand Lodge, announced the additional million dollars. He also suited $345,000 had been pledged during the evening.

Resounding blows against the Tokyo-Berlin gangsters were scored as the BUY A MASSACHUSETTS BOMBER fund jumped past the 24 million mark over the week-end.

"I cannot emphasize too strongly the necessity at the present time for EACH and EVERY one of us to co-operate and do his utmost in purchasing BONDS and STAMPS," Mr. Schoolman said.

BUY BONDS FOR MASSACHUSETTS BOMBERS.

All of us have friends or relatives serving in the Army, Navy or Marine Corps. All of us want our loved ones to return home victorious and safe and sound. We all pray for such a happy ending to this terrible bloody ordeal.

But we must do more than pray. We must work harder than ever before at whatever job we're doing and we MUST BUY BONDS and STAMPS.

When we BUY BONDS FOR MASSACHUSETTS BOMBERS we help in a small way to insure the safety of the United States. With BOMBERS the boys have a real chance to deal out telling blows to the Axis aggressors.

With BOMBERS our fighters can assure FINAL VICTORY.

BUY BONDS and feel proud of any sacrifice you make to buy them. Every sacrifice made now will prevent humiliating defeat in the years to come.

BUY too many BONDS—too soon—for too many BOMBERS now. It's better that way than the lamentable story of "too few, too late."

HITLER HINTS OWN DOOM, WELLES SAYS OF SPEECH

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP)—The new importance of Hitler's speeches, Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles told a press conference today, lies in the fact that "there is implicit in every word and every phrase Hitler's own recognition of his impending downfall."

Welles added that it was only natural Hitler in his latest speech should have referred to the kind of world in which President Roosevelt and the American people wish to live as a "new, detestable, alien world."

The kind of a world for which the American people and their government stand, Welles asserted, is a world of international decency, a world in which men and women have freedom of worship, freedom of thought and speech, and freedom from fear.

Also returning from the Azores was Mrs. Mary Marchado Tazeres, a native of Fall River, Mass., who has lived in the Azores for 19 years. With her were her three children, Joseph, seven; John, five, and Nellie, three. Three other children were left in the Azores with their father.

275,000 IN BAY STATE TO GET DRAFT NUMBERS

Approximately 275,000 Massachusetts men between 20 and 44 years of age will be given order numbers in the national draft lottery in Washington tomorrow night, Lieut.-Col. Ralph M. Smith, assistant State Selective Service director, said today.

Tobin Draft Number Will Be Drawn Tomorrow Night

When the little green capsule containing draft serial No. T-829 is announced in the draft lottery tomorrow night, Mayor Maurice J. Tobin will know where he stands.

That number was assigned him today by local Board 35, Curtis Hall, South st., Jamaica Plain. The mayor, 40 years old, registered for military service Feb. 16 with all other men in the 20-44 year bracket.

7 Deny Guilt In Missing Heirs Racket

Seven of eight persons indicted in the investigation of the statewide "missing heirs" racket in Suffolk County pleaded not guilty before Judge James C. Donnelly today in Suffolk Superior Court.

The eighth defendant, Chester O'Brien, Boston attorney, failed to appear, but Asst. Atty.-Gen. Frank G. Volpe, the prosecutor, said he expected him later today.

All were accused in the alleged racket by which dormant estates are said to have been defrauded of more than $500,000 through the "manufacture" of false heirs.

The others were: R. Elliot Fin, Brookline generalist, released in personal recognizance because of bail already furnished in other counts.

William L. Sullivan of Brookline, an attorney, released in personal recognizance because of bail furnished in Worcester.

Philip J. Aronson, Marion st., Brookline, an attorney, released in personal recognizance because of bail furnished in other counts.

Nathan Shapiro, Arlington rd., Brookline, an attorney, held in bail of $1000.

William Zaleski of Boston, held in bail of $1000.

Sarah Gendertur, of Beacon st., Boston, held in bail of $1000.

Samuel C. Lipson, Harvard ave., Brookline, generalist, held in bail of $5000.

Charged with severely beating his paralyzed brother, John Festa, 26, of Essex st., Lynn, was held in $500 bail in Chelsea court today after he had appealed a sentence of three months in jail.

No forecasts were made as to the approximate date the new registrants will be called to duty but estimates went as far as May 30.

Col. Smith said the highest serial number assigned in Massachusetts was T-2703. He pointed out that this meant that only capsules containing numbers up to T-2703 affected Bay State men.

He estimated that but one out of every three numbers drawn will include numbers held by Bay Staters since the highest national serial number is T-7000, and the average draft board in this State registered approximately 1800 men. One-half of the state's total registration is concentrated in Greater Boston, Smith said.

Results of the lottery will be released to the press at once, but official listings will not be available for several days. All order numbers assigned in the lottery will be kept in a separate listing from existing draft rosters for purposes of induction.

Draftee Exams After Induction

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP)—A new system for inducing selective service registrants into the Army became effective today.

Heretofore men subject to call have received notice from local boards to report for physical examination, and it was usually about 10 days after they passed this examination that they received induction orders.

Under the new plan, registrants will receive orders for immediate induction, and the physical examination will come after they are in the Army.

The change was adopted at the request of the War Department, which has agreed to grant immediate 10-day furloughs to men who need time to wind up civilian affairs.

Blood Donor's Injuries Fatal

Injured Saturday in a two-car crash shortly after she had donated a pint of blood to the Red Cross, Mrs. Pauline Sullivan, 53, of Nantasket ave., Hull, died today in Cohasset Hospital.

The accident occurred in Hingham during a storm.

Police said a skid sent a car operated by Mrs. Dorothea Fucci, 37, Essex st., Weymouth, crashing head on into the machine in which Mrs. Sullivan and four other women blood donors were returning from Boston to their homes in Hull.

Mrs. Astrid Beal of Whiteside ave., Hull, driver of the donors' machine was released from Weymouth Hospital yesterday. Mrs. Fucci and the other three donors remain in the same hospital.

BEATEN MAN IDENTIFIES 2 IN ROBBERY

With 27 stitches in his scalp, William L. Holden, 40, of Westchester st., Newton, today in a police headquarters lineup, identified two men who allegedly knocked him down a flight of stairs, beat him with a bottle and then his fists and robbed him of $18.

In the lineup, John M. Marengi, 21, of Alexander st., Dorchester, and Robert McGrath, 23, of Lincoln st., Brighton, admitted they had attacked and robbed Holden after a drinking bout but insisted that all they got was $6.

They went to a house in Brighton to see some girls, Holden said, but no girls appeared. After a short time the three left, according to Holden. Going down the stairs second in line, he said, he was shoved by McGrath, and tumbled down 35 steps, landing on a concrete walk.

Holden said Marengi picked him up and placed him in the back seat of his (Holden's) car with McGrath beside him and Marengi driving. According to the Newton man, McGrath began to beat him on the head with a bottle and demanded his money.

Finally, according to Holden, he surrendered $18. The car started up again and McGrath said to Marengi:

"I think we ought to kill him; he might identify us later."

At that, Holden told police, he yanked open the door, leaped to the street, fell sprawling, got up and sped along Hancock st., Brighton, running into the arms of two policemen.

They took him to St. Elizabeth's Hospital, where 27 stitches were taken in his scalp.

Motorists Warned To Drain and Save Anti-Freeze for '43

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP)—The Office of Price Administration asked filling station operators today to impress on motorists the necessity for draining and saving the anti-freeze from their radiators for use next winter.

"A successful campaign against waste will save millions of gallons of anti-freeze at a time when every gallon of alcohol is needed to make explosives," OPA said in a letter to oil distributors.

DEALERS HERE WEIGH GAS STATION CURFEW

Co-operating with President Roosevelt's call for gasoline conservation, the executive committee of the Massachusetts Retail Gasoline Dealers' Ass'n met here today to discuss a move for a 7 p. m. curfew in Bay State filling stations.

Frederick H. Moore, executive director, announced membership of his organization was "99 per cent" behind the move and that every effort was being exerted to place not only Massachusetts but all New England on a 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. schedule of sale.

Moore declared the early closing might work hardship upon some dealers but added that a universal voluntary closing was necessary to aid the war effort.

Latest advices from Washington indicate the government approves the staggering of hours by dealers, so they may best serve their customers. Those retailers who do most of their business in the afternoon and evening may be open 12 noon to midnight, for example.

The new regulation calls for the distribution of gasoline during only 72 hours of the week. And further that the delivery be restricted to 12 hours during any one day.

The WPB order affects only 17 eastern states, the District of Columbia and Oregon and Washington. Authoritative quarters here described it as only the forerunner of a rigid rationing plan but did not indicate whether rationing would be sectional or national.

A proposal by President Roosevelt for a 40-mile-an-hour speed limit for motor vehicles for the nation brought quick and favorable response.

The Virginia General Assembly immediately authorized the governor to set a 40-mile maximum if he deemed it expedient, and several governors pledged co-operation.

LAST-MINUTE RUSH JAMS TAX OFFICES

An avalanche of 100,000 pieces of mail swamped the Boston offices of the Internal Revenue Bureau today as the deadline for filing income tax returns approached.

Collector Thomas B. Hassett said that besides the regular mail 1300 pieces of registered mail was also received. Most of the letters contained money orders and checks which will take some time to check.

There was a steady stream of taxpayers to the seventh and eighth floors of the Federal Building, but the overcrowding which saw 12,000 people jammed in the bureau's offices Saturday was not as bad.

Collector Hassett warned that all returns must be made by 5:30 p. m. today, or, if made by letter, the letter must be postmarked before midnight.

REGULARS AT WORK

This, however, was more or less anti-climax, and there was missed the adroitness and the dexterity—and the sang-froid, it might be said—of the Governor's earlier interpretation of the acetylene art and his easy employment of the Saltonstall crouch.

After that the 150 workmen or so who will do the actual demolition were given the word to go ahead, and they fell to at the North End connection of the disused line, from where they will toil back along the 11,413-foot length of the structure to its other joining with the main line at Washington and Castle sts. South End.

The only Sunday work to be done will be on the section in Dewey sq., so that there may be as little hampering of street traffic as possible.

There will be derived from the structure enough steel to construct, say, a 10,000-ton cruiser, and a bit over. There are an estimated 9000 tons of steel and 356,905 pounds of copper in the old loop.

Work of removal is being done by the Lipsett Wrecking & Salvage Corp., and the contract of the Elevated with the Associated Metals and Minerals Corp. provides for removal and disposal of the structure and other materials and for payment to the railway of $49,100 to boot.

Empty Mexican Ship Warned Twice by Subs

MEXICO CITY, March 16 (AP).—An empty Mexican ship described as a tanker was twice detained by Axis submarines on a recent trip from New York and allowed to proceed with a warning not to voyage again, dispatches from Tampico said today.

The dispatches did not give the ship's name or the dates she was held up.

Reports from the crew said the ship was first stopped late at night a half day out of New York. The submarine's captain, speaking English with a German accent, asked her nationality, destination and cargo. Upon learning she was empty, he advised her to take a course 50 miles to the eastward to escape "difficulties," it was asserted.

The Mexican ship followed the advised course and was stopped a second time in daytime by a submarine, believed Italian, near the Gulf of Mexico southeast of the Bahamas, the reports added.

The submarine commander is reported to have told the captain and crew in correct Spanish: "Pass, but let this be the last time."

Gas Poured On Fire Kills 4

BEDFORD CENTER, N. Y., March 15 (AP).—Death today spared Donald Hoffman, 21, the scarlet agony of knowing that one flaming error in judgment had cost his family four lives.

The youth, critically burned when he mistook a can of gasoline for kerosene yesterday and used it to pour a dying blaze in the family fireplace, died this morning at Northern Westchester Hospital at Mount Kisco.

His sister, Audrey, 17, had died an hour before.

Their mother, Mrs. Sadie Hoffman, who risked her life in a futile attempt to rescue her youngest daughter, Shirley, 5, died later in the same hospital.

A fourth child, John, 6, escaped injury by leaping from a second-floor window.

British Coup Aids Retreat At Rangoon

MANDALAY, March 16 (INS)—An official communique today told of a daring and successful raid which resulted in capture of enemy positions by British troops during the withdrawal from Rangoon.

These positions, however, have since been evacuated by the British as the raid was in the nature of a diversion while the main British force left the Burmese capital.

The communique said: "During the withdrawal from Rangoon a British force in the Toungoo area created a diversion by attacking the enemy on the upper Sittang river.

"The villages of Lyntaz, Madauk and Shwegyin were captured, casualties were inflicted on the enemy and enemy weapons were captured.

"This force has now returned to its former position according to plan."

The region lies about 100 miles northeast of Rangoon.

Reports from the front said Shwegyin was regained from the Japanese as the result of a rise in which an Indian sergeant played the role of hero.

The Indian, these accounts said, disguised himself as a coolie and mingled with a labor gang which was digging trenches for the Japanese. Later he returned to the British lines carrying plans showing the enemy's strength and disposition at Shwegyin and also a list of Burmese fifth columnists.

Soviet Army Stands At Gates of Kharkov

MOSCOW, March 16 (AP)—Russian soldiers applying great pressure on the Germans in the Ukraine and the Donets Basin were reported today to be standing up to the approaches to the important city of Kharkov, whose "hour of liberation" was declared near.

Soviet dispatches also claimed that the Red army had smashed through German positions on the Kharkov-Kursk-Orel line below Moscow while drawing ever tighter the ring of fire and steel around the German 16th Army trapped at Staraya Russa, below Leningrad.

On various sectors of the Leningrad front, the Soviet information bureau said in its mid-day communique today, more than 1800 Germans were killed in two days of fighting.

Front-line dispatches indicating that the recapture of Kharkov, the Pittsburgh of the Soviets, might be imminent also charged that the city held by the Germans since last October 24, had been turned into a "nightmare of atrocities."

WEATHER GROUNDS RAF

LONDON, March 16 (AP)—Bad weather over the continent during the night kept the RAF from raiding Germany, informed sources said today.

54 Chinese 'Reborn' In Sea Rescue, But Canada Exiles Them

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, March 16 (AP)—An old Chinese custom that a rescued person becomes forever afterward the ward of his rescuer received a rude setback today when immigration authorities ruled that 54 Chinese saved from torpedoed ships could not remain in Canada.

The seamen argued that when U-boat explosives tossed them into the icy Atlantic they were dead and were reborn again only when a rescue boat landed them in Canada. Thus, they contended, they were Canadian citizens by birth and entitled to stay in this land of sympathy.

Before advancing the reincarnation theory, the Chinese had refused to leave port unless they sailed on a ship bound for Hong Kong, their home, although there would be no such ship because Hong Kong has fallen to the Japanese.

The immigration office ruled they must either go to sea or face deportation.

It takes high-speed photography to "stop" Dorothy Lewis's flashing blades, but it's easy to see her preference for Camels

POSTON EVENING AMERICAN, MONDAY, MARCH 16, 1942

FASTER than the blink of any human eye, the amazing stroboscopic camera catches film star Dorothy Lewis in one of her brilliant routines on the ice of the Iridium Room in New York's Hotel St. Regis.

DOROTHY LEWIS studied ballet from the age of 4, and her routines on the ice combine the artistry of the toe-dancer with the speed of the skater. Her cigarette combines extra mildness and flavor. She smokes slower-burning Camels.

MISS LEWIS works out her routines first in ballet slippers. Many's the Camel cigarette she smokes as she relaxes. "Yes, I smoke a good bit," Miss Lewis says. "I've found Camels milder by far. No matter how much I smoke, Camels never wear out their welcome."

CAMELS HAVE THE MILDNESS THAT COUNTS WITH ME—
LESS NICOTINE
IN THE SMOKE

"The more I smoke, the more I appreciate Camels," says Miss Lewis at a late supper with friends at the St. Regis. "Their cool, rich flavor is all the more enjoyable because Camels are so mild—with less nicotine in the smoke." You, yourself, try Camels. You'll like everything about this slower-burning cigarette of costlier tobaccos. You'll like that grand flavor—and you'll like knowing that there's less nicotine in the smoke (see below).

The smoke of slower-burning Camels contains than the average of the 4 other largest-selling cigarettes tested—less than any of them—according to independent scientific tests of the smoke itself!

12 Demands Flood House To Repeal 40-Hour Law

WASHINGTON, March 16 (INS)—Vigorous demands for suspension of the 40-hour-week and for anti-strike legislation broke out in the House today, with member after member declaring he was swamped with mail from "back home" urging action.

Rep. Eugene Edwards of Oklahoma, introduced with his name and letters a resolution.

"Here are 4000 letters I have received in three days about labor racketeering, strikes and our failure to suspend the 40-hour week. They show the people are inflamed."

Other members made similar reports. Rep. Smith (D) of New York said he had a successful attempt to suspend the 40-hour week, told members he would introduce the measure soon.

"I am glad the people are aroused," he said. "I will offer a bill to provide there will be no tribute paid for working, that there will be no excessive profits made out of the war, and that there will be no limitation on the hours of work."

Rep. Cox (D) of Georgia called on the people "to keep turning on the heat to compel Congress to suspend the 40-hour week and outlaw strikes."

Rep. Wickersham (D) of Oklahoma said he received 13000 letters on the subject.

Beauty

YOU CAN BE BEAUTIFUL—These are busy hands . . . with which Olympe Bradna sets the tilt of her cap . . . and Arline Gould says that lustrous, healthy nails with or without lacquer are an asset in a time-is-short season, so she suggests a brand new herbal oil to put them in extra fine condition.

HERBAL OIL LATEST AID TO SUCCESSFUL MANICURE

By ARLINE GOULD

BUSY HANDS can even less afford to be hampered by frayed cuticle and fragile nails than the glamour hands which they were yesterday . . . and if you're facing the inevitable springtime debacle that hits the healthiest of souls, pull yourself out of it with the help of a marvelous new nail aid, a herbal (pronounce the h!) oil that has just arrived in town.

Nowadays, you know, a cosmetic can't designate itself as having herbal content unless it right well has plenty of those expensive extracts in it . . . and you can even sniff their brisk fragrance in this rich, colorless oil.

This will turn the trick faster, even faster than the increased rations of milk, vegetable and fruit juices that you've been swigging the past month.

Just as there's also more than one way to beat the dirt around the stump, there's more than one way to take advantage of this new herbal nail oil's corrective goodness. Apply it all around and on the fingernails every night, and towards need it too. Massage it in well, around under and over the nails . . . and don't spare the cuticles. Give them a good massage, tapping each finger nail by drawing it between the thumb and middle fingers.

If you apply the nail oil over nail polish, you'll lengthen the life of your manicure remarkably, and help it to shine. Always use it before a manicure, after the nail polish has been removed . . . this will do away with a dull look and discoloration, which ordinarily would discourage you from going without nail polish for a day or two.

Our personal prescription for further making use of this little marvel is to massage it into your pump bumps . . . they'll respond very fast, even though they're dry and cracking.

For all further information on it, phone Arline Gould, J.B. 4000, except the week-end, or write, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

NEWS FOR MODERN WOMEN

FOOD

By Martha Lee

WHEN ST. PATRICK'S DAY arrives we are reminded that spring is just around the corner. A dessert or salad in cool refreshing green is a welcome sight on the dinner table—a tribute to St. Patrick and a promise that winter is departing and welcome spring arriving.

The sight and taste of these green dainties will act like a spring tonic to languid appetites:

GRAPEFRUIT MOUNDS

1 pkg. lime-flavored gelatin
1 pint warm water
Dash of salt
2 grapefruit, sections free from membrane
Dissolve gelatin in warm water. Add salt. Turn into individual molds. Chill until firm. Cut grapefruit sections lengthwise in slices. Arrange grapefruit slices on plate and unmold gelatin on them. Makes 6 servings.

Note: For St. Patrick hats, mold gelatin in small, round, deep molds. Unmold on thin sheets of pineapple, tinted green, if desired.

JULEP CUP

1 pkg. lime-flavored gelatin
1 pint warm water
1 cup halved green grapes, seeded
Few mint leaves

Dissolve gelatin in warm water and turn into shallow pan. When firm, cut into cubes. Arrange gelatin cubes in sherbet glasses, alternately with grapes. Garnish with mint leaves. Makes 6 servings.

JELLIED GREENGAGE PLUMS

1 pkg. lime-flavored gelatin
1 cup warm water
1 cup juice from plums
1 cup ground or stewed greengage plums

Dissolve gelatin in warm water. Add plum juice. Chill. When slightly thickened, fold in plums. Turn into individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold. Serve plain or with whipped cream. Makes 6 servings.

CUCUMBER TANG RELISH (Salad or Relish)

1 pkg. lime-flavored gelatin
1 pint warm water

2 tsp. vinegar
1 cup diced cucumber
½ cup chopped sour pickles
Dissolve gelatin in warm water. Add vinegar. Chill. When slightly thickened, fold in cucumbers and pickles. Turn into individual molds, filling them ½ full. Chill until firm. Unmold on crisp lettuce. Serve with mayonnaise. Makes 12 half-molds.

GREEN PLUM SHERBET

1 No. 2½ can greengage plums
¼ cup powdered sugar
½ cup white corn syrup
1 cup pastry cream
Few grains salt

Drain the syrup from the plums, pit the fruit and run through a sieve; add the sugar and stir until it is dissolved. Add one-half cup of plum syrup to the plum mixture, add the corn syrup and salt and mix until well blended. Pour the unbenched pastry cream very slowly into the plum mixture and stir all the time. Pour into a refrigerator pan and freeze.

To get a deeper color for this particular occasion, you may wish to add a touch of green coloring to the sherbet, but for ordinary occasions, and this one too, the natural delicate green is lovely.

Coming-Out Party

DEAR MRS. BECKMAN,

I have just received an invitation to the coming-out party of the daughter of a friend of mine. Is it customary to present a gift of some kind or to send flowers for this occasion?

K. M.

The customary bow to make to a debutante for her coming-out party is to send her flowers. They are always banked around the place where the debutante and her mother receive.

The Correct Thing

By Elton Ames

DON'T DO THIS!

You may think this a comfortable position . . . but it's bad form to "sit on your foot" (grime from your shoe is bound to get on the upholstery).

Fashion

DRESSES that fake suits are going to be a paramount consideration in the spring picture . . . and their charm goes farther than their appearance . . . for they're usually somewhat less expensive than an honest to goodness suit. Now this one would look lovely with a hat whose crimped straw brim repeated the feeling of the ombre pleated ribbon which in four shades of blue trims the jacket. Picturesque sleeve trimmings are a mark of this spring . . . frills of lingerie, lace or, as in this case, the neat swirl of pleated ribbon. Margot Godiossi designed this very neat little affair, and did it in celanese rayon crepe.

INROAD ON NAVY MIDDY FASHIONS NEW WHIM

By BETTINA BEDWELL

WITH uniforms for women so much in the news, you might think that soldiers were getting all the feminine imitators, but this would be wrong. The sailor's midly is, in fact, more popular among the girls than anything worn by the Army. For sports and for casual daytime wear this Spring, the midly blouse is shown everywhere that fashion is important.

The sports dress that is sketched is one that flaunts a sailor midly, made of navy blue jersey. Claire McCardell, who designed this model pairs it with a full skirt made of boldly striped jersey, the stripes being worked diagonally. The colors are brown, grey, navy and green.

A softening of the midly blouse is achieved by gathers at the shoulders, and by slight drapery at the waistline with gathers in the under-arm seams.

OUR DAILY CITATION: To the American volunteer group pilots in Burma who destroyed 43 Japanese planes during the past week. Fighting against overwhelming odds, these splendid pilots gave the Japs a taste of their own lethal medicine and scored a major victory.

MR. DONALD NELSON, the nation's resolute production chief, says there are two ways for us to win this war.

One way is to have management and labor bend every conceivable effort to achieve a maximum industrial output quickly.

"That," he explains, "is the AMERICAN way which we are fighting to maintain."

The other way, and the ONLY other way, is "the way of bondage, of force, the way of the totalitarian state"—in short, the way of our enemies.

There is such an intensity of feeling about the war among the American people that they are going to win it, and have the production that is necessary to win it, one way or the other.

And this intensity of feeling among the people is our best assurance that it is the AMERICAN way which will be employed.

It is inconceivable that the "other" way is desired by any considerable number of people, and equally inconceivable that it will ever be necessary.

Mr. Nelson himself seems to be completely confident that maximum war production is attainable by a truly free and democratic people, and by the time-honored democratic AMERICAN methods.

He warns, however, that time is short and that this may be "our last chance to show that a free economy can survive and be strong."

He says:

"If free men in America can't use the strength which freedom gives to turn in a far better job than the slaves of our enemies, then freedom dies and that includes the freedom of enterprise to which we are looking to deliver these goods."

Full production for the purpose of winning this war is wholly a matter of ALL-OUT EFFORT.

America has already made, and is now making, tremendous efforts not merely to match the war production of its enemies, but to gain the margin over them which will assure victory.

Yet—and most people realize it—these tremendous efforts are NOT enough.

They have not produced enough planes, tanks, guns, ships and munitions to halt the advance of the Japs, let alone to defeat them.

So now we must do the things we are CAPABLE of doing—things that the nations which are allied against us are NOT CAPABLE of doing.

PARTIAL PRODUCTION by factories and shipyards and farms must become TOTAL PRODUCTION.

Partial work by artisans, scientists, tradesmen and laborers must become TOTAL APPLICATION of talents and energies.

We cannot have these essential things with half-speed factories, mills and yards.

We cannot have them with strikes or lock-outs, with suspension of work while controversy runs its course, with debate over the terms and conditions under which the tools and weapons of war will be produced for and delivered to the men who are fighting and dying to win the war.

The seven-day week, the twenty-four-hour day and the sixty-minute hour are the measurements of the TIME available to us, and we should make not merely good or partial use of that vital time, but TOTAL USE of it from now on and UNTIL VICTORY IS OURS.

We should all remember, as Mr. Nelson so frequently and properly suggests, that this element of time "has been bought at the price of American boys fighting on lonely islands and in steaming jungles; by American boys aboard storm-tossed warships warding off the death that strikes from the clouds and from beneath the waves; by American boys fighting in the best war-planes in the world—planes of which we must make more, and MORE FAST."

PRIDE in my far-flung staff of operatives continues to increase. No matter what the question this department's operatives are there with the answer. Witness the following from my Operative 97D (Brooklyn Detail): "Ed, we can't have that guy who wants to know how to put a crab to sleep going around saying he stumped us. Think of our reputation! Here's how to put a crab to sleep. Dig a hole in the backyard and fill it with salt water and then put the crab in it. The crab will dig down into the mud. Then freeing weather will come. Then when the crab is dug out he is fast asleep. If this fellow thinks he has us stopped, let me know and I will send him a sleeping crab."

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q

—Just married a girl named Mary. What do you think of the name of Mary? A—I agree with what George M. Cohan said: "Mary is a grand old name." Another grand old name is Ruth. I like names such as Mary, Ruth, Edith and Elizabeth much better than stream-lined cognomens such as Arlene, Shirley, Jessica, Sandra, Brenda, Jocelyn, etc. Q—What do you think of an executive who permits his stenographer to smoke cigarettes while he dictates to her? A—Would have to know more about the situation before passing judgment. Would depend on what kind of an office it was; and how good a stenographer she was. Good stenographers, who are very rare, are like race horses, pitchers, opera singers and cooks. Each must be handled differently. Perhaps if this executive didn't let the stenographer you mention smoke while she worked she wouldn't work so well, so hard or so accurately.

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: If the mother of the girl of your dreams is very stout, it is probable your girl will be excessively plump when she is of the same age as her mother is now. . . . A somewhat bitter bachelor of Detroit writes: "There are plenty of square men who wish to get married to a square woman. But fair and square women, like the wild pigeon, are about extinct." . . . South Dakota is the healthiest State in the Union. At any rate, the South Dakotans live longer and enjoy good health for a more lengthy period than the residents of any other State.

SIDELIGHTS: Argentina has been having an election. In Argentina, voting is compulsory. Those who do not vote in elections are fined. A good law. . . . Note a reference to a factory that makes "steak tenderizers" for restaurants. Wonder how tough a steak can be made tender by a "tenderizer." Seems evident that the fact that a restaurant steak is tender does not necessarily mean it is a good steak. What is the best way to tell a good steak? . . . The best kind of a hostess is, of course, a thoughtful hostess. But how many hostesses are thoughtful enough when cocktails are being served to put some non-alcoholic drinks on the cocktail tray for those of her guests who do not care for alcoholic drinks?

PLEASE NOTE: Sonoma, Cal., has changed the name of Germany at to MacArthur ave. Sonoma is in the famous "Valley of the Moon" and is said to have, next to St. Louis, Mo., the tallest, most buxom and best natured blondes in the United States. . . . Only nine per cent of wives asking for di-force ask for alimony. Only six per cent of those securing a divorce get alimony. And only four per cent collect the alimony without any trouble. . . . Writes a young matron of San Francisco: "My husband was born Jan. 18. My dog was born Aug. 20. The dog is wonderful." . . . "Your repeated references to coffee shop queues indicate you have a weakness for wanting to be served by a good-looking waitress," writes a Pittsburgher. And if I have, sir, is it a sin?

LOVE, ETC.: Has been said when a married pair has all daughters it indicates the husband is a great lover. We have been unable properly to check on this claim although Eddie Cantor once said he thought there might be something to it. Mr. Cantor has five daughters and no sons. We asked Mrs. Cantor what she thought about it and received naught but a Mona Lisa smile in return. Now the experts say that when a wife is madly in love with her husband and thinks he is generally a very remarkable fellow the result usually is that she becomes the mother of more sons than daughters.

ASIDES: A young matron who says she is 5 feet, 10 inches tall, 21 years old, the possessor of a handsome husband and the mother of two beautiful children writes: "Out here in California the tall girls don't have that husband hunter's look. Tall girls are popular here. It is the cute little tricks who have the harassed, frustrated look of the husband hunter, poor things." . . . So Jack Kearns, once manager of Jack Dempsey and "Toy Bulldog" Mickey Walker, is now selling fire extinguishers in Chicago. That's not such a bad idea when you think of it. The talk of the possibility of bombing raids with accompanying fires and incendiary bombs must have greatly increased the demand for fire extinguishers. Smart fellow, Mr. Kearns, always was. If Dempsey had stuck with Kearns he would probably have retired a champion.

"By the way, a'ever play air-raid?"

Broadway's Voice

JANET GAYNOR HAS PINK HAIR

By Dorothy Kilgallen

NEW YORK, March 16—I wonder how the Government ban on the manufacture and sale of dinner jackets and tail coats will affect the sartorial happiness of our local lads who would rather not dine than dine in a sack suit. Oh, I can guess what will happen. Little bards conversations between smoothies will begin to be overheard, the first gent whispering: "My bootlegger's just got a shipment of pre-war Bond Street tuxedo trousers." And the second confiding out of the side of his mouth: "That's nothing. I just bought a 1940 tail coat—right off the boat!"

HAVING READ the latest proposals on the gas rationing situation, I am about reconciled to the fact that very soon if I want to get around town I will have to propel myself—and there seem to be only two methods open to me: the bike or the hike. I am a pretty fair walker when in the mood, but walking is a slow way of getting around, if you are used to getting around fast; so I think I will have to get a bicycle.

I approach the two-wheeler with some trepidation. I am a city child, never rode a bike except in Bermuda. I was pretty good at it there, but there my only competition was an occasional nag and buggy. I am not so confident about whizzing down Fifth ave. sandwiched between a double-decker bus and a wild New York taxi.

But I'll probably do it. If MacArthur's men can take chances, I guess I can, too.

SPRING IS HERE, I think. I can tell it not only by the bock beer signs and the gentleness of the winds in Rockefeller Plaza, but by the number of red straw hats you can count on the girls coming out of office buildings at noon time. . . . At simple, concise speech, I consider Joe Louis the champ. He never says too much and he never says the wrong thing. I'll bet he is a great telegram writer. . . . I am the girl who doesn't like those French films that always win the Prix de Paris, the Prix de Goncourt de Stuff. I have tried valiantly since my childhood—gone to them faithfully, bought my little loge ticket every time Sacha Guitry or Jean Gabin or Raimu or Yvonne Printemps set face on a local screen.

But the charm of it all never reached me. I don't much like the faces of French actors, and even in the face of all the critical acclaim and gold medals and other awards, I consider them pretty monotonous performers.

In these parts, I guess we get pretty spoiled by Gary Cooper and Cary Grant.

JUST NOTICED the other night in the Cub Room that Janet Gaynor's hair is pink. . . . And that John Carradine, with his dinner coat, wears a tie right out of the first act of LaBouche. He tucks it under his collar. Tyrone Power tells me Carradine also wears a white satin lined Inverness cape and rides in a fabulous foreign car that can be converted into several types of auto—from sports roadster to town limousine—but these added phenomena I haven't seen.

I WOULD FEEL BETTER about our local defense, I think, if there were more guards on the bridges and highways. I drove down the West Side Highway the other day without seeing more than three policemen from 54th to Canal st. I should think that—and objectives like the George Washington Bridge—should be bristling with guards. . . . I love to look through old movie magazines—very old movie magazines—and find pictures of stars when they were just hopefuls. You come upon pictures of Lucille Ball, then a platinum blonde, with other unidentified showgirls in a film called "Palmy Days"; a shot of a singing chorus from a movie called "Caravan," with Kenny Baker among the supernumeraries; and Betty Grable, posing for "cheesecake," listed only as "This Hollywood starlet." Fascinating, fascinating.

NICE THING ABOUT gin rummy is its lack of post mortem material. People just go from one game to another without any of the "If I'd played a ten instead of that Jack" conversation that accompanies so many other card contests. . . . After seeing the revival of "A Kiss For Cinderella" my conviction of James M. Barrie's immortality is weakening, and my admiration for current playwrights (the good ones) is increasing by leaps and bounds. Of course, the production may have been responsible to some degree for losing the "Barrie quality." When the Venus did a snake-hips dance to the modern "Blues In The Night" in the supposedly delicate and fantastic ball scene, I left quietly, but for good.

BOSTON after DARK

By GEORGE HOLLAND

MONDAY MUSINGS: His full-name of "M. Levin" is Meyer Levin, and he's a corporal. . . . Moreover, the bombardier of Capt. Colin Kelly's plane which sank the Jap battleship, Haruna, is still attached to Gen. MacArthur's command in Bataan. . . . So, while we still look a photograph of the Kelly bombardier—about which we were musing the other day—enough facts about the somewhat unpublishable young man have been gathered to give you a word-picture of the young hero, who has been recommended by the War Department for an award of the Distinguished Flying Cross.

CORP. MYER LEVIN is 25, the son of Samuel and Leah Levin of Brooklyn (a borough of New York in the U. S. A.). . . . He enlisted in the air corps on June 6, 1939, after having been graduated from the Brooklyn Technical High School and studying at the Brooklyn Engineering School of Aviation. . . . He first served at Fort Slocum, then at Hawaii, and last September he was one of the 73 men who made the hazardous flight from California to Manila under Maj. Emmett O'Donnell.

WRITTEN BEFORE HE WAS a hero, or even before we entered the war, a letter which Meyer's mother received in November past, gives an insight into the young man's outlook on life. . . . For that matter, it bespeaks the sentiments of thousands upon thousands of young Americans who have found themselves suddenly in uniform, many of them without the premeditation which Corp. Levin evidently gave to a military career. . . . Part of the letter reads: ". . . it seems peculiar to recall that time of my life at home when I was so concerned about my food, my room or my good appearance. . . . A good many things which at that time appeared important now look childish. . . . Well, that is life in this big world. . . . One must be far away and not have anyone to rely on aside from oneself, to be able to realize those things."

THAT KELLY-LEVIN combination which we commented on as being "quite a collaboration" unquestionably has had other parallels, news of which has yet to filter through the censorship. . . . We learn from an authoritative source that five other Jewish fliers have been recommended for the Distinguished Service Cross. . . . They are Lieut. Morris N. Friedman, 23, of Grand Forks, N. D.; Pvt. Robert E. Altman, 22, of Sanford, Fla.; Lieut. Henry Goodman, Hampton, Va.; Sergt. George Brandus, Waterbury, Ct.; and Sergt. Lester Kramer of New York. . . . The "one-man air corps," Lieut. Eddie O'Hare, Jr., whose father pioneered greyhound racing in Massachusetts, celebrated his birthday the past Friday (the 13th).

THE GIRL WHO MAKES a piano talk swing better than any contemporary of her sex (including Hazel Scott, in this opinion) will check in at the Ritz-Carlton tomorrow for her premiere Wednesday at The Mayfair. . . . She is Frances Fay and the only possible reason a person would have to greet Miss Fay's first Boston nightclub appearance with anything but pure, unadulterated joy is that her coming compels the departure of Belle Baker. . . . Belle goes to Montreal, after a highly prosperous visit. . . . Frances stays for one week, and possibly two.

RUBY FOO HAS TAKEN FULL ownership of the New York East Side Ruby Foo's Den. . . . Joe Pike, a Bostonian, has been her partner. Mr. Pike is Singer Bernice Pakes' father, by the way. . . . Ruby has bought a thousand dollar "bomber bond" for little Ronald, the Chinese baby she adopted two years ago after a heart-tugging picture of a Chinese baby, crying its heart out and sitting all alone on the tracks of a railroad station, had horrified and stirred America. . . . Ronald was identified by newspapermen as that very baby, but Miss Foo waxed furious when reporters and photographers tried to get her to confirm the story. . . . In Boston's Chinatown however, the child of that famous camera-shot is conceded generally to be Ruby's adopted son.

BEST PICTURES FOR BRUCE CABOT

By Louella O. Parsons

Bruce Cabot

HOLLYWOOD, March 16. It was just about this time last year that I wrote that Bruce Cabot was on his way to be, things after "The Flame of New Orleans."

He did make "Sunshine" for Walter Wanger after that—and then for all we know he might have gone on an expedition to the South Pole in a one-man submarine.

Well, history repeats itself almost to the day, for here we are again, possibly bigger and better things for Bruce Cabot, who has not put his name to a long time contract. A contract, I think, will be given soon to the best picture.

MARY MARTIN

THEY AREN'T KIDDING, for Cabot's first will be "Red Harvest," one of the best of the Dashell Hammett thrillers.

But even for Bruce what "The Flame of New Orleans" for Hampton Heath is a really big picture.

There's a very strong chance that Duquette's debut will be a big one.

TOMORROW, if you please, the time starts at Paramount on Mary Martin's picture "Happy Go Lucky," with that Bernhardt attending.

That's a surprise, for he is Warner's most successful young director, and Buddy De Sylva wasn't able to arrange to borrow him until Friday Night.

THIS WILL BE MARY's first picture since the birth of her daughter, and when I saw her she said she hoped she could have a musical comedy for her first picture when she returned.

This looks like it's it, with Dick Powell, Rudy Vallee, Eddie Bracken and Betty Hutton in the lineup.

Bernhardt, who just finished "The Juke Girl" and who is responsible for "Lady With the Red Hair" and "Million Dollar Baby," will do the Paramount movie in technicolor.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD AT RANDOM: The Huntz Halls (Dead End Kids) are getting ready to see a judge.

Mrs. Freeman Gosden, divorced wife of Amos, of Amos 'n' Andy fame, is critically ill.

Jackie Coogan, now a proud father, was congratulated by his ex-wife, Betty Grable, when they met in the 20th Century-Fox commissary.

BUDDY WESTMORE has received word that his bride, Rosemary Lane, is sick with a "strep" throat.

Private William Hewlett has fallen hard for Susan Hayward and he is giving her a big rush on the "Forest Ranger" location.

THAT'S ALL TODAY! See you tomorrow! But Harriet B. Ford of San Antonio says:

"Let's crush the G-men and the Japs and let MacArthur have a nup. Big Defense Bonds."

Frances Faye Headliner At Mayfair, Wednesday

By SAM BERENSON

"The Toast of Tuison," "The Belle of Boston," "The Darling of Dubuque" and the "Belle of Broadway" are some of the amusing descriptions appended to lovely Beatrice Kay, soubrette of the "Gay Nineties Revue" heard Monday evenings at 8:30 p. m., via CBS-WEEL who will headline the new Latin Quarter revue.

Miss Kay will not appear tonight because of her radio broadcast in New York. Others in the new revue include the MacArthurs, Harold Prentiss, the Ambassadors, the Bernards and their Lovely Girls, Carmen Sameniengo and Park and Clifford.

Francis X. Brown, Broadway singing star of innumerable musical comedies and a favorite with theatergoers everywhere, opens Wednesday evening at the Mayfair. Miss Fay's use of the word "streamlined" publicized stream-lining with the result that audiences who have seen her have acclaimed her as the famous girl of the year although Miss Fay's share of charm and beauty is not shared by the famous girl usually has. Belle Baker remains for two more thrilling days. Griff Williams brings his famous orchestra to the Copley-Plaza Oval room on Friday evening, March 20, 1936. BILLY KELLY this week at the Hotel Essex where master of ceremonies, Billy Kelly, a son of the Ould Sod himself, has concocted a mélange of mirth and merriment interwoven with dances and melodies from the Emerald Isle calculated to warm the hearts of all from Bantry Bay to the tip of the isle.

Sally Keith, the girl with all the defense bonds, continues to headline the Crawford House stage productions. Silly just seems to go on forever and rates as one of the outstanding entertainers of all times to appear in Boston. Certainly, no one else has ever been so consistently popular!

Sprightly sophisticated entertainment is one of the features of Aiki-Yaversonne's new Satin Room at the Hotel Fensgate which after three prevues, opens to the public tonight. Aik! Isn't the least bit bashful about announcing the Satire Room as "the most expensive in town." Featured are: Wally Bear, novelty artist, who creates weird animals with balloons; Lucile and Eadie Roberts, sight-of-hard artists; and Anne Therese White, chanteuse. Continuous music from 9 p. m.

It is seldom that any cafe enjoys a triple-barreled reputation as does Harry Sher's Silver Dollar on Washington st. For many seasons, the cafe has been talked about because of its unique atmosphere, and the caliber of its entertainment, which to say the least is extremely abundant. Since the beginning of his tenure, Harry Sher has concentrated on featuring fine food and shows.

The Charioteers, famed singing stars of "Hellsapoppin'" headline the new Rio-Casino revue, doubling over from the Majestic Theater. This famous singing group rates as one of the season's most unusual bookings. Bobby Johnson, dancing personality, doubles over from "Louisiana Purchase" to give the revue an added Broadway luster. Two other acts, plus the delightful Buster Keim girls and Helen Carroll . . . George Harris and his orchestra.

Ben Ford is more than slightly happy about the manner in which Boston has received Lionel Hampton and his Orchestra now in the last week of their Tic Tac engagement. This group is one of the leading bands of '42 . . . Mal Hallet, long New England's favorite midgetro, is at Cappy's this week. A sure fire attraction for the singing cafe operator . . . Ribby's, opposite the Alston Depot, still carries on with Defense Bond Night on Mondays.

It's the customary fine stage show at Blaustrub's in South Boston, with the nightly group of entertainers herded and presented by the personable Boyd Heathen favorite singing emcee and star at the Village, Peter Bodze's rhythm seem to be as satisfying as ever with visitors saying nice things about the band.

Billy Hurley's Log Cabin is currently providing an Amateur Night every Tuesday, a Gift Nite on Wednesday, and an Auction Nite on Thursday, which gives an inkling only of the varied type of entertainment to be found there. Needless to say, there's a whopper St. Patrick's Day celebration tomorrow evening, w/it shantocks and a bit of the fun's.

Madalyn White, beautiful dancer and singing starlet, opens at the Cocoanut Grove this evening with a new show replete with smart entertainment.

Observers said Allied bombers were helping the Australian air force step up its assaults upon potential invasion bases, but they suggested the need for getting further reinforcements quickly was the chief motive behind the address which Prime Minister John Curtin broadcast to the people of the United States Saturday, when he asserted the fall of Australia would open the way for an attack upon the American West Coast.

EXTENSIVE DAMAGE

The Japanese announced Feb. 2 that their troops had landed on Portuguese Timor to oust Australian and Dutch troops dispatched there last December. The Au-

At Rabaul and Gasmata, American and Australian raiders, dodging through fierce anti-aircraft fire, were said to have plastered runways, hangars and grounded Japanese airplanes with bombs in during low altitude attacks.

Japanese offensive gestures during the week-end apparently were limited to attacks on Port Moresby and Thursday Island, in the 100-mile-wide strait separating Australia from New Guinea.

'The Rivals'

'Watch on Rhine' Her Third Hit

Lillian Hellman, awarded the New York Critics' prize for her play, "Watch On The Rhine," as "the best American play of the season," is not one who believes that a play can be dashed off in the short space of a week or two.

Miss Hellman devotes as much as a year to research work before she even begins to write. Then when she has completed a first draft, she goes over the entire manuscript carefully, taking as much as a year or two to complete it. When Miss Hellman submits the finished work to her producer, Herman Shumlin, there is usually no need for any reason.

Shumlin will present Miss Hellman's prize-winning play at the Colonial Theater for a two-week engagement, beginning tonight, direct from its 11-month run in New York, with the original cast including Lucile Watson, Paul Lukas and Mady Christians.

In the 10 years that she has been writing plays, Miss Hellman has turned out only three besides "Watch On the Rhine." Two of them, "The Children's Hour" and "The Little Foxes" were established successes. Only one, "Days To Come" was not in the hit class.

Pastor Confident He's Louis' Master

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 16—Bob Pastor, New York heavyweight who recently staged a startling upset by knocking out Lem Franklin at Cleveland, declared during an interview with this writer over a two-way public address system from the ring of Al Caroly's swanky West Palm Beach boxing club that he would also win from Joe Louis when they meet again.

"I believe I am a faster and a better boxer than Louis," asserted Pastor, "while I also pack a hard enough punch to stop the 'Brown Bomber' who is one of the greatest champions in the history of boxing. I spotted Franklin 20 pounds. Few persons thought I had much of a chance to win from him, and yet I knocked him cold."

"When you went to town against Franklin, Bob," I said, "I understand you threw punches as fast as Junior Lieut. Eddie O'Hare did lead as he shot down six Jap bombers that tried to sink a United States airplane carrier in the Pacific."

(The mention of the name of Lieut. O'Hare was the signal for a wild outburst of applause from the society and boxing crowd that jammed the American Legion Arena to capacity. The American public is quick to recognize real bravery. O'Hare as a boy lived at Miami Beach with his father, the late Eddie O'Hare, and mastered flying at Pensacola after graduating from Annapolis in 1937. . . . Editor's note.)

"I kept my best punches going as fast as I could when I got Franklin in distress," declared Pastor.

"How did you happen to lose to Louis in your last bout which was in Detroit?" I queried.

(Voice from the crowd: "Tell him you forgot to duck!")

"That was only part of my trouble," responded Pastor with a grin. "I know that most boxing writers as well as Jimmy Johnston, my manager, thought I got too cocky in the first round after I hurt Louis with a right hand punch. I opened fire with both hands, and before the round ended I was on the canvas four times."

"I was on my feet at the final bell for the session, and then went on to outbox Louis until I suffered an eye injury in the eighth or ninth round. It was the eleventh session before Louis won. I think I was far enough away from my first round upset to say that it was the injured eye rather than the knockdowns which caused my defeat."

Cheers for Louis

I called attention to Louis' brilliant record as a boxer.

"He has fought all comers," I said. "Twenty times he has successfully defended his title as world's heavyweight champion. He has not hand picked his opponents. All he has asked is for a promoter to sign him with the best available opponent. (Applause.)"

"I believed Louis reached the high spot of his remarkable career when he joined up with the United States Army as a private."

The crowd greeted this statement with almost as much enthusiasm as it did reference to the aerial feats of Lieut. Eddie O'Hare.

"Louis is all that you say of him as a boxer and as a man," declared Pastor.

"Louis' next bout will be against Abe Simon, my stablemate, in New York on March 27. Abe is a pretty good fighter as he proved when he went 13 rounds with Louis in Detroit."

"In June I look for Louis to meet Billy Conn again."

"Who will win, Louis or Conn?"

"I like Joe," replied Pastor quickly. "I think Conn has lost some of his speed. He will find it difficult to get away from Louis' punches and he will probably get knocked out. It should be a good bout while it lasts."

"And it will draw $1,000,000," I said.

"That kind of money should not be hard to take," said Pastor good naturedly. "I am glad to hear that one of the Army relief funds will be cut in on the show."

Owens $25,000 House

Pastor told me during the interview he owns a $25,000 house at Saratoga.

"I am a New York city product," said Bob, "but I went upstate so as to get more outdoor life. A boxer must keep out in the country as much as possible if he is to last under the strain of ring battles."

Mention of Saratoga caused one fan to ask if Bob made the money with which he built his palatial home at the race track.

"No one buys houses on money they win at the track," said Pastor, who admitted he has ended up with his share of losing mutual tickets.

"I shall stick to boxing," went on Pastor, "and I am sure I shall become champion by defeating Joe Louis."

Al Caroly, who operates the boxing shows at West Palm Beach in the American Legion Arena, also promotes boxing in the Arena at New Haven. Al has been giving action shows here, and he has been playing to capacity crowds each week.

Like the famous Hollywood Stadium in California which attracts Al Jolson, George Raft and all the other movie stars each week, the American Legion Arena is the place to go each Friday night. Society leaders and John Bonanas himself get down close to the ring and enjoy the blistering action.

DODDS ADMITS EARLY SPEED COST HIM RECORD

By STEVE O'LEARY

Gil Dodds, who has designs on Glenn Cunningham's magic mile, almost had the master's mark of 4:04.4 in his grasp but he realizes today that he missed out because he ran too fast.

The bespectacled theological student lost New York's Knights of Columbus mile by scant yards to Les MacMitchell but until the last lap he set a blinding pace which rattled all the fractional marks of Cunningham's studiously paced effort over Dartmouth's lightning fast track in 1937.

"I guess I ran that last lap five or six times slower than I did all the rest of them," Dodds confessed today. "I just ran as fast as I could as far as I could."

MacMitchell, who conceded it was one of the toughest races he had ever run, had about as much left as Dodds at the finish. Both of them just about staggered across the line, according to Jack Ryder.

Did Gil have designs on Cunningham's mark in trying to run such a speedy mile?

"To tell the truth," Gil said, "I felt I was going to run about 4:06. That's what Jack thought, too." (MacMitchell's winning time was 4:08.)

BILL COWLEY RETURNS FOR BROOKLYN GAME

Making his first appearance in competition since his jaw was shattered in a battle with J. J. 22, Cowboy Bill Cowley will see service tomorrow night at the Garden in the Bruins' regular season against Brooklyn.

The Bruins have no particular goal to strive for tomorrow night and the main source of interest is Bill Cowley.

The wily center who is easily the greatest playmaker in hockey and who was a cinch to be All League center again until his mishap, can do the Bruins a lot of good during the coming playoffs if he is anywhere near right.

Cowley's jaw was so badly broken that doctors insisted that he would not be able to play again this year. They never counted on Bill's courage, though. He's the same guy who tried to return to action during the Toronto playoffs last year with torn lateral ligaments received the week before—an injury that sidelined football players for a season.

COWLEY UNDER WEIGHT

And here is Mr. Cowley back less than two months after his accident. The concern is that Bill will not be in physical shape for the tough going ahead. Forced on a liquid diet he has dropped 12 pounds weight which he can ill afford to lose.

His only comment was when asked whether he was strong enough to play.

"Let me get a couple of steaks that will stick to my ribs and I'll be ready to go."

If Bill can really move around the Bruins stand a good chance of going into the Stanley Cup finals. This game tomorrow marks no difference in the final standings for the Bruins. Due to their loss to Toronto Saturday, the Bruins can't possibly finish higher than third which means that they face Chicago in the first playoff game next Sunday.

USES IRON MASK

Tomorrow's affair with the Ameiks will be played with the Chicago tilt in mind. Manager Art Ross and Coach Doc Clapper will watch Cowley carefully as he plays with a heavily constructed iron mask which was used by Milt Schmidt a few years back.

If Cowley looks anywhere near his old self, he will step back in between Riffin' Roy Conacher and Co-Captain Eddie Wiseman. If Bill is shaky, he will alternate at the center spot with Jack McGill.

With a game under his belt tomorrow and a few days of needed practice, there's a pretty good chance that Cowboy Bill will be a tough customer for those Chicago Blackhawks.

Rangers Cinch Title; Bruin Record Stands

By the Associated Press

The New York Rangers, for the second time in three years, are the champions of the National Hockey League—thanks to a bit of help from the last place Brooklyn Americans. Brooklyn still fighting for a playoff berth spilled the persistent Toronto Maple Leafs last night, 6 to 3, and no matter what happens the remainder of the way, the Rangers replace the Boston Bruins as the league boss.

The Rangers, however, made their coronation respectable by defeating Chicago, 5 to 1, in their season's finale and have until the week-end to rest.

BROOKS STILL HAVE CHANCE

League officials originally scheduled the Stanley Cup playoffs to begin in Madison Square Garden on Sunday night if the Rangers won the title, but it is possible that the first game will be played at Toronto Saturday night and the second in New York on Sunday.

By its triumph over the runner-up Leafs, Brooklyn kept alive its faint hope of reaching the playoffs. Both the Americans and the Montreal Canadiens, 4 to 1 victims of the Detroit Red Wings, have one game left, with the Canadiens two points in front.

Brooklyn goes to Boston tomorrow night and the Canadiens collide with Toronto Thursday. An American triumph and a Montreal defeat would create a point deadlock with Brooklyn getting the nod on the number of goals scored.

BRUIN MARK STANDS

Although the Rangers did annex the crown they failed in their attempt to equal or surpass the scoring mark of the Bruins, who scored 173 goals during the 1936-1937 campaign. New York finished with 177 and upped its string since its last shoutout to 101.

Three games remain to be played before the Stanley Cup play offs can get under way this week-end: Brooklyn at Boston on Tuesday; Chicago at Detroit on Thursday and the Toronto vs. Montreal clash the same evening.

MANY STARS PASS UP DERBY TITLE CHANCE

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN, MONDAY, MARCH 16, 1942

The mourners' bench reserved exclusively for hopeful 3-year-olds at this season of the year has the S. R. O. sign out today, go-

For years Col. El has offered a $1 against any Derby winner getting to the post to take a crack at the neck of roses. This year, although 130 three-year-olds including such starry-eyed hopefuls as Requested and Alsab—have been nominated, several of 1941's snappy juveniles weren't even named. Their owners wouldn't even invest $25 to make them eligible for the May 2 festival.

There are one or two good things who go bad every winter, like Bold Irishman last year, and therefore don't get the trip to see the blue grass.

But the list this time is nearly big enough to mount a cavalry unit. And this doesn't apply only to the Derby, mind you. The Preakness drew only 60 nominations. Not even Requested, the Flamingo winner and Florida fair-haired boy, got into that set.

STARS MISSING

Among the big ones missing from the Derby eligible list are Constitution, the Preakness winner; Colchis and Eternal Bull, who gave Alsab a bit of a chill just when he was hottest; Redhorn, the hottest colt; and the Flamingo, Amphibious, a stretch-running son of Sir Gallahad; Incomparable, who was no pushover in Florida this winter; and Buster, Jock Whitney's high-priced yearling.

Those seven alone won in the neighborhood of $100,000 in 1941, and that's quite an exclusive neighborhood.

Constitution, who's a half-brother to the Preakness winner, lost his heat in 1938, was ranked down in the little black book when he came winging home by six lengths in the Flamingo Futurity last fall. He had a bankroll of more than $50,000, but he came out of the Futurity with a sore leg and apparently it hasn't come back.

COLCHIS TIED ALSAB

Eternal Bull was the last colt to beat Alsab as a 2-year-old, and Colchis was the last to beat him. The Bull did it while setting a new track record for five furlongs at Suffolk Downs in the Mylos Stakes last year.

After that, Alsab galloped off with the big money in ten straight starts, but he ran with Colchis in one of them—the Eastern Shore Handicap at Haverhill, Mass.—and the husky boy ran the champ a head heat.

Amphibious and Buster were hot all of the Saturday last fall, too, but they were the Whitney train, the former by Mrs. Charles Shipman Payson for $60,000 and the son of Bud Dog by Jack Whitney for $11,000.

Mutuels Veteran, Edwin Austin, Dies

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 16 (AP)—Edwin Austin, 76, veteran prizefighter, died here today. He had been working at Oaklawn Park in the current racing season.

A sister, Mrs. M. Monroe, who was his trainer, will accompany the body to New York, N. Y., where funeral services will be held.

BOB JOHNSON MISSING

ANAHEIM, Cal., March 16 (AP)—Bob Johnson, veteran outfielder, hasn't shown up at the camp of the Philadelphia A's, although he was reported on route from Tacoma, Wash., to sign a contract. "I expected he'd be in," said Connie Mack. "No, I haven't heard from him."

'Rookie of the Year' Label Tied on Haas

By HERB FINNEGAN

SARASOTA, Fla., March 16—Cincinnati may have trouble digging up hard-hitting outfielders, but they have two of the finest prospects in National League history in Third Baseman Berthold Haas and Pitcher George Burpo.

In fact it wouldn't be amiss to wager that Haas is the "Rookie of the Year" this season, and that 19-year-old southpaw Burpo will be the "Rookie of the Year" in 1944.

Haas is 28, and the mystery of his case is how he has been kept in the minors so long. We first saw him in spring training with the Dodgers four years ago, and he looked like a full-fledged big leaguer then. But he was a first baseman, and the Dodgers had Camilli.

Haas is a clean-cut looking blond who has been setting batting records in the fast minors for the past four years. He's a Chicago boy, and started out on his own hook in pro ball back in '36. He dug up a job with the Beatrice club of the Nebraska State League as a first baseman batted .361 and was purchased by Brooklyn.

HIT .328 FOR CLINTON

He wasn't ready in '37, and so the Dodgers, after looking at him in spring training, sent him to Clinton, Iowa, in the Three-Eye League. He hit .328 there, finishing third in the league, and once again was told by Brooklyn to report for spring training.

But during the winter the Dodgers purchased Camilli from the Phillies, and Haas' troubles started.

He was used as an outfielder that spring by the newly appointed Durocher and was sent to Milwaukee in the American Ass'n with instructions to be played in the garden.

"I was green out there, of course," said Haas, "and Manager Alan Sorhorne didn't have much patience with me. I made some errors, more through inexperience than anything else, so I wound up with Nashville in the Southern Ass'n on June 1. I played first base again there, hit .337, and was chosen out for the league championship by one point. Johnny Hill, whom the Braves tried, was top man."

SAID HE WASN'T READY

Down south he went with the Dodgers in '39 and was surprised when he was shifted back to the outfield. That was when the Dodgers were trying the Almadas, the Vosmiks, the Cullenbines, the Gibberts—everybody they could get their hands on, as an outfielder.

They said again he wasn't ready, though he looked like the best young prospect we glimpsed all that spring for all-round ability.

Once more he found himself at Nashville, once more as a first baseman. So determined was he to get out of that league that he hit .365, copping all batting honors.

"The can't send me back again after that record," mused Haas, but they did nevertheless.

PLAYED 156 GAMES

"At least I had the satisfaction of making Camilli elen because Brooklyn had decided to go along with me if he held out much longer. But that didn't get me anywhere, because I was shipped to Montreal in the International League."

Haas played first base for Montreal, then was notified he had been sold to the Cardinals who notified Manager Clyde Sukeforth to play him at third base. This latest shift in positions affected his batting, and he dropped off to .278, though he led the league in RBI with 84.

Last year he really blossomed out as a great star. He felt more at home at third than he did before, and the Cards sent him to Columbus as a third baseman.

There he batted .315, led the association in RBI with the splendid total of 131, led it in total bases, was second in triples, third in doubles.

And he was the only athlete in the entire league who played the entire 156 games on that pennant-winning, Little World Series champion Columbus Club.

HAAS NO FLASH IN PAN

Two full seasons in I-A ball, two full seasons in Double-A. Haas certainly is no flash in the pan. So confident is Bill McKeehrle that Haas has it that he didn't hesitate a moment in sending Bill Werber to the Giants when he purchased Haas from the Cards.

The newcomer looks like a million in the Grapefruit League. There is no talk that he wouldn't throw from third base but he took a groundball from Johnny Welfaj's bat over the bag against the Sox and tossed him out at first neatly. And Johnny is fast.

"I'll admit I haven't been throwing well this spring," Haas confessed at the Tampa game with the Sox, "but my arm has been very sore. I really can throw well. I'll prove it to you on the trip north."

Yes, he can throw and he can hit and he can fly around the bases. He's our long distance choice for the "Rookie of the Year" award, as is Burpo for 1944. We'll tell you about Burpo later.

CRONIN GIVES CAMPBELL ACID TEST

SARASOTA, Fla., March 16 — Why hasn't Dom DiMaggio been playing? Here's Joe Cronin's explanation. "I want to give Paul Campbell every opportunity to prove if he can hit for distance as he has been in practice."

The 24-year-old firstbaseman has been patrolling center field in the early exhibition games. He's a fly-hawk, but similarly he's a Dapper Dan at first. He's the kid who set a world record for double plays (27) started by a first baseman last season when he was at Montreal.

His chief drawback has been his inability to hit a long ball or hit .300 for that matter. His last two years he batted .284 at Louisville and .285 at Montreal.

Paul Waner took him in tow when the veteran was practicing with the Sox and taught him how to pull that inside pitch to right field. The kid is an apt pupil and started hitting the ball in practice 400 feet into right field. He could always push the outside pitch to left field. In fact that's where he got most of his hits. So he'll stay in there until he proves whether he has mastered the Waner lessons or not.

YANKEE GAME REVIEW: IT

was Joe Gordon's first day in uniform, yet he played as if he had been working out for a month. He hit the first pitch in batting practice on a line to center field. First time up in the game he singled through Cronin. In the field he made a running backhand stab of a Doerr drive to rob Bobby of a hit. Later he made a nice stop of a Welfaj smash and tagged Cronin out on the base path. He retired the entire side on 4-3 plays in the first inning and he capped the day by stealing a base.

Joe McCarthy was asked why he played Gordon on the first day out. The Yankee manager replied: "He insisted on playing," then quizzed his World Series hero as a personality. "Great disposition," he confided. . . . McCarthy allows Johnny Lindell, 6-4 pitcher, to bat with the regulars. Lindell won 23 games and lost only four for Newark last year and can hit, run and field as well as pitch. He also has a most deceptive motion to first base. He may take over pinch hitting duties in place of Red Ruffing this year.

Scout Phil Rizzuto led off the 11th inning with a hunt and stole second to score the winning run in a moment later. "He's the best hunter in baseball," said Cronin after the game. Little Scooter has done the Sox a lot of harm in the one year he's been around. . . . Joe McCarthy is serving his 12th year at the helm of the Yankees, which equals the late Miller Huggins record for Yankee managerial longevity.

Captain Paces St. John's High To N. E. Throne

Capt. John Feley of St. John's High of Worcester was nearly worth his weight in gold after his team captured the ninth annual New England Catholic high school basketball tournament from St. Mary's High of Waltham at the Arena.

Prizes piled on the Worcester leader practically hid the inspirational player to his team; gold basketballs for each of his teammates for winning the tourney and special emblems for himself and mate, Vincent O'Neil, for winning places on the All-Tournament team.

Foley waited off the floor with the Cardinal O'Connell Trophy to be held for a period of one year; a personal prize as the most valuable player to his team; gold basketballs for each of his teammates for winning the tourney and special emblems for himself and mate, Vincent O'Neil, for winning places on the All-Tournament team.

St. John's lost out to Cathedral High of Boston in the final and fell victim to La Salle of Newport, R. I., in 1940 and again last year. The consolation game found Holy Family High of New Bedford copping St. Bernard's High of Fitchburg, 26 to 24.

Diablo-Cox Top Mat Card

With dozens of challengers already camped on his trail, The Angel, world's heavyweight wrestling champion, will have at least one more after next Wednesday night when El Diablo tangles with Thunderbolt Joe Cox, in the main event of Promoter Paul Bowser's weekly tournament at the Boston Arena.

Yesterday both men announced that they will immediately challenge The Angel in the event of victory. Cox was especially enthusiastic as he announced his plans. "I will issue the challenge right after the bout," he says. "I have been after him for quite a while." The semi-final, will bring together Rowdy Rudy LaDitzel and "Sliding Bill" Hansen.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 16 (AP)—Don Padgett, Brooklyn Dodgers outfielder purchased from the St. Louis Cards last December, today was ordered to appear before the draft board in Forest City, N. C., for Army physical examination.

Under the terms of the deal with the Cards if Padgett is inducted before the season opens April 11 the Cards will refund the Dodgers their purchase money of $25,000. Padgett, classified in I-A, is 28 years old, unmarried and without dependents.

BOSTON COLLEGE, HARVARD OPEN SPRING GRID WORK

Head Coach Denny Myers and aides greeted Boston College football candidates for the start of a five-week spring practice campaign at B. C. this afternoon.

Dick Harlow and his staff had Harvard out for its first drill this p. m. So much work was ahead that only a brief picture-making period was allowed before Dick planned to start driving his squad at top speed.

Selective service, accelerated academic programs and injuries are expected to cut heavily into the number of candidates who will work through the entire five weeks allotted by college officials for spring grid practice.

Ten lettermen seniors of last year's squad, to begin with, have played their last football for Boston College.

BLANCHARD IN AIR CORP

These include Capt. Al Morro, tackle; Steve Levantis, tackle who will soon start Officers Training with the Marine Corps; Leo Strumski, tackle who has been negotiating with the same branch of the armed forces; Henry Woronick and Ed Zablski, stellar ends who have joined the Navy's V-7 branch and will begin training immediately following graduation; Terry Geoghegan, another valuable wingman, and Frank "Monk" Maznicki, Dolph "Butch" Kissell, Bob Jauron and Teddy Williams, a quartet of clever backs, three of whom held first string ranking last season.

Uncle Sam has already called five likely gridgers who were expected to play big parts in next fall's eleven.

FROM PICK AND SHOVEL JOB TO U. S. GOVERNMENT SERVICE. GOT $12.00 A WEEK WHEN WORKING NOW GETS $30.00 TO $40.00 A WEEK

"I am amazed," said Frank. After graduating from high school he found that he could not get employment. "For nine months, I worked as a pick and shovel laborer at a salary of $12.00 a week. This was tedious and very unpleasant, especially when bad weather set in. "Imagine what happened. I tried the U. S. Government examination for City Mail Carrier. I obtained a rating of 98.2% and within a few months, I received an appointment. I find the work very agreeable and pleasant. I now earn between $30.00 and $40.00 a week.

"All of this happened because I read an advertisement of Franklin Institute offering to prepare young men to try U. S. Government Civil Service examinations. "I accepted the offer and under the free scholarship plan of the Institute, this training was without cost to me, and I now find myself a Mail Carrier in the U. S. Government service."

Every young man and young woman who is interested in getting a U. S. Government position should write to Franklin Institute, Dept. K-457, Rochester, N. Y., and a 32 page civil service book with list of many positions and describing them and giving full information will be sent without cost.

Do not delay. The Defense Programme will likely bring a large number of appointments. Therefore, all who are interested should write at once for this fine 32 page book.

Chisox Typical Spring Flops, But Watch Out!

PASADENA, Cal., March 16 (AP)—It's always entertaining to watch the Chicago White Sox perform in the spring. They usually look terrible, but they have a lot of fun and Jimmy Dykes condemns them to the bad place and says they ought to listen more to what the manager tells 'em.

Then along comes the regular season and the Dykes array of castoffs, misfits and Joe Donkases comes to life and suddenly begins to look like a ball club. An American League club.

This year it's the same old story. The Sox looked terrible in losing to the Chicago Cubs in their first exhibition, and they'll probably look no better against their North side rivals today.

But when April 14 rolls around, the White Sox will be tough. Just how much depends, at this writing, on their hitting.

YANKS STILL STRONG
Most everyone except Jockey Jimmy says the club may be the one to knock off the awful Yankees. Dykes says, however, they might do it, and it might be Boston. Then he says, with reserved candor, it might be his outfit.

"However, I don't see any signs just yet of the Yankees collapsing. They've got too much power. They too much."

"Now," he went on, "if we get pitching and hitting we'll have a good ball club. We got good pitching last year. If it'll hold up and we can find some hitters we should make trouble."

Dykes doesn't look for much from Cleveland, any one reason. That's Bob Feller. He's in the Navy.

Some of Dykes' heavy hitters fell down last year, including Moose Solters and Mike Kreevich. Kreevich was traded to Philadelphia's A's for Kelly Moses, who hit .301 to keep his lifetime average over the .300 mark.

Moses, Myril Hoag and Taft Wright, the latter a belting 322 batter last year, together with Veteran Sam West, a Washington cast-off who may prove valuable, make up the Sox outfield talent.

GOOD INFIELD
Joe Kuhel at first, Billy Knickerbocker or young Don Kolloway at second, Luscious Lucius Appling, who wasn't the Appling of Dykes' eye with his holdout campaign this spring, at short, and Dario Lodigiani or Bob Kennedy at third, with utility man Skeeter Webb still around, comprise the infield help.

A good infield it is.
Mike Tresh is the No. 1 backstop, with Tommy Turner and George Dickey behind him.

The pitching corps includes: Thornton Lee (22 won, 11 lost); Ted Lyons (12-10); Johnny Rippey (13-13), and he should be vastly better; Eddie Smith (13-17); Bill Dietrich (5-8); John Humphreys (4-2); Lee Ross (3-9) and Ed Weiland from Waterloo (11-10); Orval Grove from Shreveport (16-7); Joe Haynes (0-0), and Pete Appleton (6-3).

That's 11 hurlers, with Lee and Smith left-handers. Dykes plans to carry 10.

"On paper we have a good looking club," admitted Dykes. He noted he thinks it'll look good on the field—when the season starts.

FINN FERNER SKI VICTOR
NORTH CONWAY, N. H., March 16.—Running before the very wind, Finn Ferner of the Harvard A team scuffled the entire Wildcat trail twice in the streamlined time of 4:47.8 to win the eighth annual Appalachian Mountain Club's annual race for men against a field of 60 of the East's top flight club and college stars.

Closely following in his tracks were Esob Massey of the Dartmouth A team and Pat Kelly of the Dartmouth B team. Snow cover on the course was very good. The depth being measured at 44 inches through the notch.

The precipitous Wildcat trail, tricky and treacherous, was as ever a real test of speed, skill and stamina. Team honors went to the Dartmouth Outing Club, a team with a combined time of 8:02 for the morning and afternoon runs, while the Harvard A team was second with 9:17.8 and the Dartmouth B team third with 9:45.6.

CONSTANT RESEARCH MAKES THE PREVENTION OF BALDNESS POSSIBLE

BOSTON, March 15 (J. W.)—Science has never discovered a way to regrow hair on a bald head and baldness remains a permanent condition except in very rare cases to the unfortunate so afflicted. Rapid strides have been made by John E. Warner and his associates in the prevention of baldness. Thousands of men have saved and improved their hair through the Warner method of treatment, but no case is ever accepted unless beneficial results are certain. Hundreds of men and women are treated each week in one of the largest and best equipped offices of this kind in the world.

There is never any charge for a private examination or consultation at these offices—and in every case honest advice is given as to whether or not treatment can be helpful. Statistics show that 85% of all baldness is due to local scalp conditions which can be checked and corrected if treated in time. Many cases treated have resulted in a more luxuriant growth of hair and a greatly improved appearance. Each case is studied individually and constantly and each person treated is given detailed instructions on scalp hygiene at the conclusion of the treatment so that a healthy head of hair is a permanent condition.

Fees for treatment are very moderate and are payable as the treatments are taken, not in advance. There is a separate department for women. The Warner offices are conveniently located at 320 Little Building, corner of Boylston and Tremont Streets, Phone Hub. 1705.

Michigan Faces Shift Scene Of Holy Cross, Green Game

ANN ARBOR, Mich., March 16 (AP)—There is a fan in this college town who has the opinion that the University of Michigan swimming team is going to take a thumping when it goes to the national intercollegiate meet at Harvard this week-end.

Even those loyal rooters who saw their Wolverines walloped by Yale by a 59-16 score several weeks ago, and still held out hope for a better future, have changed their tune after what happened in the Big Ten meet here last Saturday.

Michigan, a heavy favorite, barely squeaked out with a victory. The opposition that the Wolverines will encounter in the eastern carnival will be considerably stiffer than that which was entertained here last week-end.

Yale will be a major threat.
